Local Postmaster Discusses Delivery

With the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce reviving the movement for home delivery of mail by the Post Office, President Leonard Dobrow asked Postmaster E. A. Jensen his views and the past history of the actions for home delivery.

The following is the postmaster's reply, sent to THE PAHOKEE NEWS so that the entire community could study it:

Mrs. Allie Okie, Publisher
The Pahokee News
Pahokee, Florida

Dear Mrs. Okie,

Last week when I discussed the matter of City Mail Delivery for Pahokee as proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, I stated that I believed that we could now qualify as to the physical requirements for the establishment of this service, and that I felt that the opposition which we encountered on the part of some business people would not now exist.

I would like to point out that, although I can find nothing in Postal Laws & Regulations which specifically states that there must be a public demand for this service before it is established, I believe that our last attempt to get City Delivery in 1951 was reported unfavorably by the investigating inspector principally because he encountered considerable opposition and apathy, and did not feel that it would be used to such an extent as to justify the cost of the service.

In an attempt to get a better idea of just how the people of Pahokee felt about City Delivery, last Friday I spent the whole afternoon walking the streets and asking everyone I met what they personally thought of the idea. I asked this question: "Do you think that Pahokee should have city mail delivery?"

I did not keep a detailed record of each answer, but only about 20% of those to whom I talked would express a definite opinion. Of these, about half were definitely in favor, and the other half definitely opposed. The other 80% gave an answer something like this: "Well, I don't know." Hadn't thought much about it — maybe it would be a good thing for the town—suppose there

SUNCOAST PREXY IS DOUBLE POP

Here are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Canipe, the most surprised parties in the Glades this week, and their new daughters, one of whom was a complete surprise to all concerned. Sandra, on the left, weighed in at Everglades Memorial Hospital shortly after 10 Monday morning, at seven pounds, nine ounces. Cynthia, on the right, weighed five pounds, two ounces. The girls are identical twins, and the first double arrival at the hospital in two years. This picture was taken when they were 24 hours old. Canipe, principal of Pahokee schools and president of the Suncoast Conference, is holding a cigar of the magnitude to celebrate the event. Reliable authorities report that when he received word of the arrival of twins, in his office at the school, his reply was a shocked "Oh, no!" But seeing was believing, and the proud father is now shopping for another stroller. Mrs. Canipe, prominent in Girl Scout, Pahokee Methodist church, and Legion auxiliary work, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Donnell, of West Palm Beach. The Canipes' "Girl Scouts" now include the twins, Judy, 8, and Kay, 7, and one son, Wayne, 2.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON — Efforts to strengthen, and stimulate the program of the Small Business Administration have been undertaken by several Democrats in the Senate.

We joined this week in offering five amendments to the Small Business Act. These would make the agency, permit abolition of the loan policy board (which hamstringing the program), authorize loans to municipalities, raise the loan ceiling from $150,000 to $500,000, and retain the lower interest rate on participation loans. Last year when the bill to create the Small Business Administration was before the Senate, assurances were given that there would be no let-up in aid to small business. The bill abolished both the Reconstruction Finance Corp., and the Small Defense Plants Administration.) But the government is falling down on the job, including the promise to expedite setting up a Florida office.

Florida is principally a small business state and a real program should be underway but many of our businessmen tell me they have sought, but have not even been given hope for any loan assistance. The change

LARGEST VEG. DISPLAY SET

Combination of growers' exhibits from the Everglades agricultural area and the coastal lands of Palm Beach County will give the County Fair the largest exhibition of vegetables ever shown. M. U. Mounts, chairman of the Agricultural Committee, said this week.

Decision to combine the products of the two areas and reservation of twice as much exhibit space in the show March 5 through 13 was reached at a meeting of the committee at Lakeland, Fla., Monday.

Arrangements are also made for a special exhibit of tropical fruits in connection with the Agricultural Committee, plans of a sub-committee are successful. Members of the agricultural committee in addition to Chairman Mounts, include Claude L. Shirley of Pahokee, Luther Jones, J. Tom Boynton and George Wedgeworth of Belle Glade; G. Bernie Bender of Loxahatchee; Frank Doudera of State Road 80; W. A. Boutwell, of Lakeland; and J. H. Speer and Raleigh Griffiths of the county agricultural service.

PUBLIC UTILITIES EXEC TALKS HERE

P. M. Schuchart, director of the utilities division of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, discussed the workings of the PUC at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions club. The utilities commission is the one among the 48 states which takes its hearings on rate increases and changes into the public hearing. He explained how the commission will hold hearings "on the scene," such as the hearing in Lakeland Tuesday on the rate increase by the Florida Power Corp. Trucks, buses, railroads, telephone and telegraph service, and electric are all under PUC's jurisdiction.

Discussing the importance of the commission's responsibility, he said that the power, gas, and telephone companies in Florida alone have a $700,000,000 capital investment and serve 1,600,000 users, who pay $200,000,000 per year for the service.

Orlando Chamber of Commerce members were luncheon hosts. Manning Keen, of Canal Point, is retiring president. Herbert Nix of Okeechobee was elected vice president; W. M. "Bill" Pather of Kissimmee was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Members voted to erect a sign at the intersection of U.S. 27 and U.S. 441 at Leesburg, stating that 441, the eastern route to Miami, is 17 miles shorter than the 27 highway, the western route. They also voted to affiliate with the original U.S. 441 Highway Association of Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee. Keen will continue to be served, according to plans of the association as director to the association for the 1954 year.

DEDICATION OF CP PLAYGROUND SUN.

The Heckschers Foundation-squipped playground at Canal Point will be dedicated Sunday at 2 p.m., with Arnold Barad in charge of the program. Paul Rardin will be master of ceremonies at the opening. Ice cream and cold drinks will be served, according to plans. The playground committee, composed of Mrs. A. R. Harrington, Mrs. O. H. Chastain, Mrs. Leonard Maxson, Barad, and Rardin, and the Canal Point Lions club have worked for many months to acquire the new playground equipment through the Heckschers organization, and the dedication Sunday will mark the achievement of their goal.

FLUORINE 3 Spared In Bad Accident Here

The question of fluoridation of water in Belle Glade probably will be put to the voters in the May primary, the City Commission decided at its meeting Wednesday.

Further plans for the referendum will be presented at the next meeting. H. O. Carlton, Z. T. Ingram, and City Manager Tom Carle were named to work with the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce on expenditures for advertising. They will present their report later.

Building Condemnation

Condemnation proceedings against two buildings colored town are to go ahead, the Commission decided. Three disinterested contractors will be asked to make estimates on repair of the buildings and if repair is too costly to meet the minimum city requirements, the buildings are to be torn down. The commission authorized the City of Belle Glade to purchase for $5,000 slightly less than five acres across from the hospital for the proposed National Guard Armory site. The city's judgment against A. L. Wallace, former city clerk, will be dismissed, the commission decided, with the execution of an agreement between the city and Wallace that he will pay back $12,278.52 owed to the city.

Owens Coming

County Tax Assessor James M. Owens, Jr. will be at Belle Glade City Hall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Feb. 19 to confer with taxpayers, the commission was informed. Homestead exemption deadline is April 1. Belle Glade's second dog inoculation clinic will be held at the city loading zone Saturday from 10 to 11 a.m., in charge of Dr. Clarence Kidder and City Inspector N. B. Willis.

A car owned by Stanley Chevrolet Co. was totally wrecked in a crash Saturday night, but the driver, Robert Burke, his wife and two-year-old child escaped with their lives.

Burke, an employee of Stanley, apparently lost control of the car on Connor's Highway four miles from Bryant, and the vehicle, a 1951 Packard 400, hit eight trees before it finally stopped. Mrs. Burke is in Everglades Memorial Hospital with face and head cuts and a knee injury. Burke and the child were treated and released.

The car, valued at $1395, was uninsured, and only two rear tires are salvageable. Stanley said. Trooper Joe Bertrand of the Florida Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

CUB MANUALS TO BE BOUGHT BY PTA

A skit entitled "Light for Tomorrow" was presented in observance of the 57th anniversary of the national PTA, and the 25th anniversary of the local association. Mrs. Frank Handley was in charge of the skit which was presented by Mrs. A. J. Phillips, Mrs. R. S. ## Crop Dusting Near Homes Is Studied

The recurring Glades problem of how to get the crops dusted without endangering residential areas came up again this week.

Pahokee City Council, having received complaints from residents who indicated they prefer to part their hair with a comb rather than a dusting plane, went to work on the situation at Monday night's meeting.

GLADES HEALTH PLANS GALORE

The Glades public health program is developing by leaps and bounds, it appeared this week, as the County Commission okayed plans for a new health center at Belle Glade, with the proposed, Pahokee center already in the works in Washington.

One bid of $10,149 to resurface Barfield Highway in Washington was received by the County Commission at its Monday meeting. The contract will be awarded pending scrutiny of the bid by the county engineer.

Other bids considered by the commission this week included those for purchase of a second car and trucks which included several bidders from Belle Glade and Pahokee. All bids on the rolling stock were referred to the county engineer for tabulation and recommendation.

County Agent M. U. Mounts told the commissioners that 47 county cattlemen had taken advantage of the emergency feed program and had received 1,300 bushels of corn and 227 tons of seedcake feed.

KILPATRICK IN LAKELAND JOB

E. G. Kilpatrick, of Sanford, organizer and former president of the Bank of Pahokee, has been named president of the newly organized First State Bank of Lakeland.

Beginning in the banking business in Lakeland, Kilpatrick resigned his position there in 1922 to head the Bank of Pahokee. During his 13 years as an executive of the bank, the institution was the only one in Palm Beach County organized prior to the Florida boom to survive the later crash.

Kilpatrick left the banking business in 1937 to engage in farming at Port Mayaca for several years. In 1941 he became vice president and cashier of the Okeechobee County Bank of Okeechobee. He resigned to become vice president and the president of the First State Bank of Sanford, from which he has gone to the presidency of the new Lakeland bank.

Kilpatrick, whose wife is the sister of Mrs. J. V. Thomas and Mrs. L. J. Fraser, of Pahokee, was born in Lakeland, Fla., in 1920's. He and Mrs. Kilpatrick will make their home in Lakeland at 316 Patten Heights.

Postmaster Discusses Mail Delivery

are some people who have a hard time getting to the post office. Now me, I'd probably keep my box anyway — have to be up town every day anyway. What do you think, Ed?"

Of those who were definitely opposed most thought that it would hurt their business by making it unnecessary for people to come downtown to get their mail each day, and that it would mean an unnecessary Government expense. One businessman gave the opposite view, stating that parking in front of his place of business would be less congested, and that more people would be able to park and do business with him.

In answer to some questions which have been asked, if we should obtain City Delivery service it would be necessary that street markers be put up at least in the area to be covered by the carriers, and that houses be numbered.

Everyone taking advantage of the service would have to install an approved type mail receptacle or door slot. Taking advantage of the service would be optional. You could either give up your post office box and have all mail delivered, keep your box and have all mail come to it, or you could use both, in which case mail addressed to the box would be put in the box and mail addressed to street and number would be delivered.

I have had a number of people ask if the establishment of this service would raise my salary. The answer is "No." My salary is based on what we call "Gross Receipts," which is composed principally of stamp sales and box rents. The establishment of City Delivery would raise the local first class mail rate from two cents to three cents, and would raise the rate on your locally-addressed newspapers slightly. No other classes of mail would be affected.

We keep no separate count of local mail, but by checking back on our sales of one cent and two cent stamps the best estimate I can make is that the change would increase our gross receipts about $800.00 per year. It would take an increase in gross receipts of approximately $3,000.00 this year to affect my salary. The gross this office is now in (Grade 3) is from Gross receipts of $18,000.00 to $27,000.00, or a spread of $9,000.00, so you can see that the possible increase of $800.00 would be rather insignificant.

In conclusion I would like to say that I am a public servant. As such I will be glad to attempt to render the service at this post office that the majority of the residents want. At the same time I do not feel that it is proper for me to tell the public what they want, or to attempt to give them something (at Government expense) that they not want.

If I were operating a grocery store I would not buy a delivery truck and hire someone to drive it if my customers did not want their orders delivered. It wouldn't be good business. The fact that in the case of city delivery of mail the Government would be picking up the check still doesn't make it good business if the people don't want and won't utilize the service.

So now I'm tossing the ball back to the Chamber of Commerce and to The Pahoakee News for their assistance. Do the people of Pahoakee want City Delivery, or don't they ???
Sincerely yours,
E. A. JENSEN, Postmaster

Wish I'd Said That

You know Miss Perkins. Well, she's been driving her car around our town for a little more than 30 years. The other day she had a bit of trouble parking down on Main Street. Didn't quite make it the first try, so she pulled out of a temperate glass of beer with dinner, I know the answer. It's all a matter of personal preference... and none of us like "backseat driving" from anybody.

LOBAR PNEUMONIA

Lobar pneumonia usually strikes suddenly. The victim, previously healthy, suddenly develops a shaking chill, a high fever and severe pain in the chest. This is ordinarily accompanied by a cough which, early in the disease, may produce a rusty-colored sputum. "Lobar" refers to the lobes of the lung. The right lung has three parts, the left lung two. Inflammation of the lung, caused chiefly by bacteria, completely consolidates one or more of these lobes.

If lobar pneumonia progresses, the patient becomes extremely ill. In addition to a high fever and a cough, he is restless and uncomfortable; the skin is hot and dry and the color appears dusky or cyanotic resulting from a deficiency of oxygen in the blood. Respiration, or breathing rate, normally less than 18 in healthy persons, increases to a minute rate of 36 to 40 per minute.

If lobar pneumonia is allowed to continue untreated, it may not only continue to spread to other lobes of the lung, but the bacteria may also enter the blood stream subsequently infecting other organs such as the heart, kidney or brain.

If the disease is discovered early, response to treatment is dramatic. Physicians usually administer the sulfonamide and antibiotic drugs which fight the bacterial invasion directly, regardless of the patient's resistance. These drugs can save life but unfortunately the bacteria can build resistance to them and pneumonia may develop again. They do not give permanent immunity to the disease.

Bacteria which cause lobar pneumonia normally inhabit the nose or throat of persons who have recovered from an illness and who are momentarily resistant to the invading organisms. Unprotected sneezing, coughing, laughing, or even loud talking may cause the bacteria to be spread to the respiratory tract of susceptible persons whose resistance is low.
